

Coach Elam's freshman World Geography class recently solved the mystery of Doink the Clown and his shenanigans around Clarendon. Allegedly, Doink is stealing all the candy from the small humans and the Freshman class wants to get it back.

They assumed the role of good citizens by protecting the children and they also showed confidence with their passion and determination. The freshmen class were innovative and resourceful as they used technology to help them solve the case and get the candy back. They collaborated with each other to put a stop to this travesty.

While doing this, they exhibited several qualities of a Bronco by being responsible, confident, technology literate, and communicating effectively.

<https://youtu.be/6NT6tu0nulk>