

Mrs. Anderberg's third graders are continuing to learn correct finger placement in Keyboarding class. They are working hard to keep their fingers on the home row and also try their hardest to memorize where all the keys are so they can keep their eyes on the source. We talked about how much better their skills will be from practicing at school and at home. The students are learning sayings for the keys to help them memorize it and using key colors to help, also.

The qualities they are portraying are responsibility, determination, and setting goals. They are also working very hard to achieve those goals.
